

Creating a docker image for python backend application :

